

Statement of Purpose

Work Experience

I began my professional journey with To The New Private Limited, starting as a trainee in February 2023. During this six-month internship, I focused on software testing, ensuring product quality and functionality. My responsibilities included identifying bugs, improving testing frameworks, and contributing to the organization's technological advancement. This internship paved the way for my current role as a Quality Engineer, which I took up in August 2023. In this role, I have been entrusted with the testing and approval of software products, contributing directly to the success of various projects. These experiences have equipped me with technical expertise and an appreciation for precision, collaboration, and commitment.

Achievements

My contributions to improving the testing framework at To The New earned me recognition as a standout performer for the quarter and the "Spot Award" for my efforts. These accolades have motivated me to aim higher and continuously seek innovative solutions. Additionally, I have been a contributor to open-source projects, showcasing my proactive approach to learning and innovation. During my school years, I held the position of head boy, a role that instilled in me the values of leadership, accountability, and teamwork.

Versatility

I believe in embracing life beyond professional commitments. My hobbies, such as traveling, watching movies, and exploring new cuisines, reflect my love for diverse experiences and perspectives. These activities have broadened my worldview and enriched my ability to connect with others. My ability to balance responsibilities—whether contributing to organizational growth, participating in open-source communities, or supporting my family—demonstrates my adaptability and perseverance.

Responsibility and Future Goals

Balancing professional and personal responsibilities has been a defining aspect of my journey. As the eldest sibling, I have taken an active role in supporting my sister's education and my parents' well-being. Professionally, I ensure that the software products I test meet the highest standards, understanding their impact on the organization's success. Witnessing the failure of a promising project due to a lack of collaboration among team members deeply affected me and highlighted the importance of effective teamwork.

Why SP Jain?

I aspire to pursue an MBA at SP Jain School of Global Management because of its focus on developing leaders who drive meaningful impact. My mentor, an alumnus of SP Jain, spoke highly of the institution's emphasis on collaboration and social initiatives. This aligns perfectly with my desire to grow as a leader who not only delivers results but also inspires others. By joining SP Jain, I aim to develop the managerial skills necessary to lead with confidence and purpose while upholding the institution's values. I am eager to contribute to the legacy of SP Jain and carry its flag high in all my future endeavors.
